We are very proud to announce that VENLYS Maritime Specialisation Services has won the Lloyd's List Greek Shipping Award on the category of SAFETY for 2020; Indeed, we are deeply honoured by this distinction and feel grateful to serve the maritime industry. This is the best motivation for us in VENLYS, to continue supporting the needs of shipping, by promoting the role of the human element and work for the maritime sector of the future.

We would like to thank our clients for their trust all these years. This award goes to our common vision of Safety!

We would also like to thank the members of the judging panel for trusting us with this well esteemed award.

This award makes our commitment to Safety stronger

VENLYS Maritime Specialisation Services is the GREEK LEADING AND FORWARD-THINKING COMPANY that focuses on the human element marine safety, ship and company efficiency and productivity.

We have been working with many well-known companies on Safety Culture Assessment, Resilience analysis, Mental Health and Well-being, Safety Intelligence (Leadership & Communication/Situational Awareness & Decision making), Chronic Unease, Crew Assessment, and the development of relevant conventional and digital tools; these are all original and high-quality services long offered by VENLYS.

Starting from Greece and Cyprus, we established a long-standing service in the Philippines and expanded to Germany (Hamburg), the Middle East and the Gulf. Last year we announced our cooperation with the Hong Kong based RTG Communications.

We have currently increased our on-line support, due to the COVID -19, by developing and conducting a number of services, studies and seminars.

Now it is time we move ahead and focus on the study of the assessment of HUMAN PERFORMANCE, hoping that we will perform our best!

We are ready to confront the challenges of the post COVID 19 era, to support our clients and promote our vision for the role of the human element to the shipping industry.
